

INDIA SHOULD EXEMPT SOLAR DUTIES ON EXISTING PLANTS: TATA

JULY 7, 2014

FEEL THE GRID

INDIA SHOULD EXEMPT SOLAR DUTIES ON EXISTING PLANTS: TATA

6 days ago

That increase, spread out across the two-decade lifetime of the average photovoltaic plant, would mean the cost of solar power would rise to about 8 rupees (13 cents) to 9 rupees a kilowatt-hour, he said. Bids in a February national auction of solar licenses ...

 BusinessWeek via Google News